Results of PALS

(Phonological Awareness and Literacy Screening test) in Pre-K classes

about the “inspired” study:

Stepping Stone School partnered with Round Rock Independent School District for the “Inspired” Project, part of a $1.2 million federal grant training study that measured how prepared for kindergarten children coming out of Pre-K programs were. The result: Stepping Stone School students scored altogether higher on Phonological Awareness and Literacy Screening tests than their counterparts who attended Round Rock ISD preschool programs.
